Dear Wentworth

Mr Loring had a letter yesterday from Miss Martineau which I think you will like to hear of, as it seemed to come to us as a cheering note through the gloom of the week. Ellen + William Craft had been to visit her & staid several days. Miss M said that before she had seen them she had some doubt how they should get on together - that is how far she should enjoy their society though feeling the deepest interest in their position & experience. But they had not been with her an hour before she felt their superiority - is clear
